Application Name:
ChallengeLoop

Application Description:
ChallengeLoop is a web application allowing users to join, participate, and compete in different weekly challenges ranging from fitness challenges, productivity challenges, to educational challenges. Users are able to join different challenges in the discover page, record their progress at those challenges, and view their position on the leaderboard. Groups of users are also able to pick and choose their own challenges in a group setting, competing in a friendly setting.

The dashboard summarizes all of the user's challenges they are actively participating in, along with their overall performance in past challenges which will incentivize them to keep using the app and challenge themselves. Additionally, community engagement through competing is a core focus, allowing users to celebrate their winnings, achievements, and progress they have made. ChallengeLoop uses a simple interface to allow users to stay motivated and not be overwhelmed.

While most habit or goal tracking apps exist for long term habits and consistent challenges, ChallengeLoop provides more realistic challenges that are more short term that still provide users with healthy challenges, while still being fun and competitive. A streak system better helps the user to consistently strive to complete their challenges on a weekly basis. Overall the community promotes engagement between users and motivates the user to a better self.

Notes: randomly generated challenges (potentially)

Audience:
Made for people who are looking to challenge themselves and others on a daily basis. There will be a leaderboard, daily weekly challenges, and also a simple social media posting.

Vision Statement:
Improving your life starts with your daily routine.

Communication plan:
We plan on using slack to communicate throughout our project's life cycle and when no meeting in person.

Meeting Plan:

We will be meeting Tuesdays and Thursdays on zoom, during the evening.

Extra Credit:

- Database could grow too large, slowing down the application
  - Severity: Medium - load times will increase, making users impatient
  - Mitigation: several databases
- Cheating
  - Severity: small- a lot of effort for no reward
  - Mitigation: verification like photos
- Users losing interest over time
  - Severity: Medium - reduces the users and apps engagement, causing empty challenges
  - Mitigation: Give the users streaks, fresh sets of weekly challenges, smaller daily challenges, and notifications to remind users
- UI hard to navigate
  - Severity: Easy - frustrates users and might keep users from consistently logging on
  - Mitigation: conducting a lot of usability testing and using more clear, consistent, and familiar design patterns
- Scalability
  - Severity: Easy - would need to attract lots of users before our system struggles with updating leaderboards or slowing down performance
  - Mitigation: Cache leaderboards or potential cloud hosting
